Urges N. E. People to Boycott Hard Coal

Investigating Committee in Report to Gov. Cox Says Public Should Assert Independence of Anthracite

LET PEOPLE OF N. E. ORGANIZE

Miners and Operators Are Organized—Let People do Likewise and Fight Back

Legislative Committee Submits Recommendations to Governors' Conference

URGES GOVERNOR COX TO APPOINT AN EMERGENCY FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The belief that "the public should assert their independence of anthracite" is expressed in a memorandum presented by the joint special coal investigating committee of the Massachusetts legislature to a conference of New England governors at the state house today to consider the railroad and coal situation.

"By the substitution of bituminous for anthracite," the memorandum says, "the people of New England would save not less than $50,000,000 a year."

The committee, which in the course of its investigation visited the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania, says it feels that "both sides to the present controversy between operators and miners have been and are willing to see the price of anthracite advanced, resulting of course in a gain in higher wages to the miners and increased profits to the operators."

The committee recommends that an emergency fuel administrator be appointed in Massachusetts and that he be prepared to take steps to regulate the distribution of fuel; that the administrator cooperate with the national coal association and other agencies in obtaining an adequate fuel supply at this period; that wherever the administrator finds that unfair prices are being charged for fuel in any city or town, such city or town be urged to take steps under its emergency powers to obtain domestic fuel for distribution and sale to its inhabitants; that the public "for their own protection, present and future be urged to make use of bituminous and other fuels and that they be further urged to boycott anthracite."

"To this end," it recommends, "that consumers be assisted in every way to familiarize themselves with other fuels and learn how to use them, and that all the New England states join in this movement to free the public from dependence on anthracite."

The memorandum says that if there should be a suspension of anthracite mining for any substantial period it is certain that during the coming winter

PURCHASING AGENT ACTS ON MAYOR'S RECOMMENDATION IN CONTRACT AWARD

Contract Originally Awarded the Nashoba Construction Company of Lowell Goes to Simpson Bros. Company of Boston—Nashoba Company to Dismantle Local Plant

In accordance with a recommendation from Mayor Donovan, Purchasing Agent Donnelly this afternoon awarded the contract for the supply of 20,000 square yards, more or less, of asphaltic concrete for the street department, to the Simpson Bros. Co. and he has sent the contract to the mayor's office for approval.

A short time ago the public service board filed a requisition for 20,000 square yards of asphaltic concrete and the purchasing agent called for bids. The Nashoba Construction Co. and the Simpson Bros. Co. submitted bids, but that of the latter company was lower by 5 cents a square yard. On the ground that the Nashoba Construction Co. was a local concern, the purchasing agent awarded it the contract, but the mayor refused to approve it, and so notified Mr. Donnelly.

The letter from Mr. Donnelly to the mayor, which accompanied the contract, was as follows:

Dear Mr. Mayor:—

I have received your communication of August 21st, advising me of your disapproval of my award of the contract to the Nashoba Construction company for the buying of asphaltic concrete.

It is evident that a difference of opinion exists between us as to the relative merits of the award of this contract. In my opinion the Nashoba Construction company was entitled to this contract, based upon figures which indicated to me that they were in reality the lowest bidder.

It is my duty as purchasing agent to consider all factors involved in the compilation of bids. Not alone the bid itself, but the question of the ultimate completion of contracts.

It is my desire, however, at all times to co-operate with your office in matters of public policy. I feel that as an administrative head of a department I should give consideration to any executive order issued by your office.

In order, therefore, to avoid what would apparently lead to endless controversy and further delay in getting the asphaltic concrete contracted under the terms of the contract, I am sending to your wishes and I am herewith presenting a contract with the Simpson Bros. corporation and the city of Lowell for your approval.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. DONNELLY, Purchasing Agent.

As a result of the awarding of the contract to the Simpson Bros. Co., announced today that its plant off Main street, which was erected in the month of July, for the supply of asphaltic concrete to the city, would be dismantled at once. The announcement was made by George Lettieri, superintendent of the company.

The committee recommends that an emergency fuel administrator be appointed in Massachusetts and that he be prepared to take steps to regulate the distribution of fuel; that the administrator cooperate with the national coal association and other agencies in obtaining an adequate fuel supply at this period; that wherever the administrator finds that unfair prices are being charged for fuel in any city or town, such city or town be urged to take steps under its emergency powers to obtain domestic fuel for distribution and sale to its inhabitants; that the public "for their own protection, present and future be urged to make use of bituminous and other fuels and that they be further urged to boycott anthracite."

"To this end," it recommends, "that consumers be assisted in every way to familiarize themselves with other fuels and learn how to use them, and that all the New England states join in this movement to free the public from dependence on anthracite."

The memorandum says that if there should be a suspension of anthracite mining for any substantial period it is certain that during the coming winter

All aspects of the situation were being closely studied by officials as plans went forward for the conference in New York next Tuesday to which the governors of all the principal anthracite-consuming states were invited by E. R. Wadleigh, federal fuel distributor.

Judge Enright Commends Military Police For Their Co-Operation With Local Authorities

Officers From Camp Devens Active in Rounding Up Bootleggers and Other Offenders in This City—Man Fined and Sentenced to House of Correction for Operating Auto While Intoxicated—Other District Court Cases

The co-operation of the military authorities at Camp Devens with the military police department in aiding to clean up Lowell and rid it of some of the dangers to society, was strongly commended by Judge Enright in district court this morning.

A few days ago members of the military police at Camp Devens offered testimony that resulted in conviction of two young men charged with selling liquor to soldiers. This arrest followed because of the poisoning of a

Camp Devens soldier by liquor which had been purchased from a Lowell bootlegger. The military police, testified to going to the home of the Smith woman police officers and members of the and their testimony was supplanted by that of members of the Lowell plain clothes force, who arrived at the house

shortly after the soldiers got there, by pre-arrangement.

The defendant was also charged with the larceny of a revolver from one of the soldiers, but the court found there the case was deferred until tomorrow.

MAJOR DONOVAN SAYS LOWELL'S TAX RATE FOR PRESENT YEAR IS AN HONEST ONE

His Honor Says Tax Rate for 1922 Was Deceptive and that From the Standpoint of an Honest Tax Rate This Year's Rate is Substantially Lower

Than Last Year

Commenting upon the tax rate of 11 if all money spent by departments had $30,500, which was announced by the town included in the tax levy, the rate assessors yesterday, Mayor Donovan would have been in the vicinity of $33, instead, however, $23,929.80 was disbeen put in, and that there has been a total of unpaid bills of $52, in fixing the tax. He further stated, $2,82 was presented this year's gov-substantially lower this year than last

Deny Being Approached by Gamblers

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press) Charges that

Pat Durkin, outfielder, and Sammy Bohne, second baseman of the Cincinnati Nationals had been approached by gamblers during a recent series with the New York Giants at Cincinnati, were given official cognizance today when John A. Heyder, president of the league, held a hearing at which both players denied the accusations under oath. The changes had been made by a Chicago sports publication.

POSTOFFICE DEPT. HALTS MANY SWINDLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The United States government takes considerable care in protecting the bank accounts of its citizens, and many and varied are the schemes it is called upon to use in order that the guilty will not lose their savings or years. But perhaps the most interesting of all is the method of the postoffice department, which issues "fraud orders" to eliminate from the mails the circulars and advertisements of the get-rich-quick swindlers.

How much this system actually saves investors during a year it is almost impossible to estimate. In one recent instance, as the result of a single fraud order, 21,000 letters, each believed to contain a dollar bill, were intercepted and returned to the senders.

When investigators of the postoffice suspect an individual or company of sending through the mails letters or advertisements of a fraudulent nature, inspectors are given the case to gather evidence. Should suspicion be backed by facts, the persons are called to give reason why a fraud order should not be issued against them. A hearing is conducted, and, if the charges are sustained, all postmasters are ordered to return to the senders all mail addressed to the person or company in question. Those not bearing return addresses find their way to the Dead Letter office, and the money concealed is turned into the national treasury. Very often the fraud order is followed by court action against the offenders.

In recent months Postmaster General New has instituted a determined campaign against mail frauds. Especially have his efforts been directed against purveyors of worthless oil and stock and bonds in the southwest. As a result many operators have been tripped up in their promises of thousand of per cent of profit to their duped investors.

Fake stocks are the principal commodity dealt in by those who冒充 (make up) numbers of circulars and advertisements, but many unique and interesting schemes to market other commodities have been uncovered by the department's activities. One of the most recent was the case of a man who advertised blooded hunting dogs as very low prices and delivered mongrels picked up at random, and faked pedigrees.

Another advertiser boasted of having found a sure cure for tuberculosis, but when government chemists discovered the brown, slimy liquid was covered by a thin skin and tasteless, a fraud order specially put him out of business.

Seems to beat the prohibition laws often come to the attention of the postal authorities. Several consisted of packages to which water was to be added to produce wine, beers or other alcoholic drinks. Officials held that if the materials actually contained alcohol they violated the dry laws, whereas if they did not they violated the postal fraud laws.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MEGRIMM'S SQUARE THEATRE

The new "Fox Beach" film production, "Fair Lady," one of the features at the Megrinn's Square theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday, is a heart-throbbing romance set in pulse-quivering drama with an International setting. The action of the story, half of the typical "Fox Beach" and adventurous, is romantic love that will appeal to all young hearts of both sexes. Betty Fox has the leading role.

The other feature of the current program is "The Toll of the Sea," an sensational photoplay film in natural colors. The story is founded on a legend of China and an all-star cast interprets the various roles.

RAILROAD THEATRE

Alice Lake and Milton Sills, two of the most sympathetic screen players have the leading roles in "Environment," which is being shown on the "Raill" screen the latter half of the program. Alice Lake is in the role of the "Chicago Sull," one of Chicago's leading underworld characters, a girl who has had a chance. She is content to follow the path of crime because it is the easiest way. Then suddenly she is brought into sharp contact with the country with its simple, quiet virtues, and Chicago Sull's redemption is in sight.

Milton Sills is seen in the role of a son of the soil with whom Chicago Sull falls in love. Her redemption is brought about, but not until the leading characters of the story are on the depths and back.

Little Richard Hendrick, famous juvenile star has a splendid part in "Environment" and you will enjoy his performances.

The other feature on the program is "Old Sweetheart of Mine," a film version of James Whitcomb Riley's immortal poem. The leading parts are enacted by Ethel Porter and Helen Jerome Eddy.

Stan Laurel in "The Big," a new Mervin LeRoy film is also on the program. Mervin's comedy is also on the program.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The ticket sale for the opening performances at the H. F. Keith's theatre, next week, opened today at the office. There is every indication that the premiere will be as attractive this year as for any seen in the past, and this is accomplished without exact knowledge as to just what will comprise the bill. Suffice to say at this time that there will be good measure up to the bill, and that it will measure up to the opening bill for any year since the theatre opened. This is the beginning of the 12th season of the theatre, and all odds to be a great success.

THE STRAND

"Daughters of the Duke," the newest Gauster production, with Miriam Cooper, Gladys, Stuart Holmes, Ethel Shannon and others of screen fame opens a three days engagement at the Strand starting today. The story of entertainment and the daughters of the "Rich" especially emphasizes the two previous Gauster productions, "Four Men's Wives," and "Rich Men's Wives." The story is replete with melodramatic action of the highest class, intriguing characters lead to Russia, France and England, exciting scenes of suspense, beauty, gorging, debauchery and thrilling action. The story concerns a wealthy American widow who has decided to marry her daughter to a title, despite the fact that the daughter has strong desires to give her heart up to one of her school-day sweethearts who comes from the "common" ranks. The mother, however, has her way and the girl is betrothed to a duke. There is another woman who resents this match, the duke's sweetheart—but she is smothered by the assurance from the duke that he is marrying the American simply and solely for her money, and in due time he will be separated from her in another position to boot. That's the beginning of an all-absorbing, melodramatic story that has many adventures and side twists ere the finale is reached.

"Catch Me Smoke," the newest Tom Mix offering, will be the second feature, it's a story of a return soldier from France, who after a year, is a sober man and in a race of him who is a gang of cut-throats discover oil on his estate. Do they succeed? See the picture and learn the results.

CAN'T BORROW MONEY FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

The citizens of Dracut, at a special town meeting held in May, voted to borrow the sum of $75,000 for the rebuilding of the Parker avenue school, which was burned. Work on the building was started and pushed along in anticipation of the loan, but a few days ago when "low" interest rates made the loan, he was informed by State Accountant Wanfield that the money could not be borrowed as the action of the town meeting was illegal because of the fact that in borrowing $75,000 the town would exceed its borrowing capacity.

When the loan was voted last May the town's borrowing capacity was $65,000, but since that time the payment of $65,000 had brought the borrowing capacity to $70,000 or just $5,000 shy of making the special meeting action entirely valid. Work on the school, however, will be continued and in all probability the selection will call a special meeting to take some action to relieve the situation.

Be a Movie Director—
It's Easier Than Starring

ALLEN HOLUBAR

KING BAGGOTT

BY JACK JUNGMEYER HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23. Three years ago King Baggott, among the first not personally banished and his leisure movie stars, stepped off the screen to become a motion picture director.

The past year has found many of the older retired film favorites back, but Baggott, despite the most tempting offers, has refused to forsake the microphone he's wielding at Universal. "Comfort" is his explanation for the backsstage preference.

"As a man grows older he feels the need of settling down in ease and relaxation." What shocking prose from the lips of one who in his long day of popularity enthralled legions as the very prince of romance! But there you have it, direct and very much matter of fact.

"There are some pleasing features of the star's life that are missed by directors," continued Baggott, "but after all the latter have greater opportunity to live their lives as they see fit, and to seek in their waning years, a solid comfort denied the actor."

"He does not have to concentrate his energies upon memorizing roles, nor does he have to be constantly on the qui vive like the actor."

"The public demands a great deal of picture can see his handiwork in every scene, which is a privilege as well as a pleasure."

"Aside from the artistic side also, there is the material fact that a director-producer can make more financially out of a few good pictures than can most stars in a lifetime of effort."

There's some to ponder for the thousands of young men who look forward to a motion picture career—which branch it were better to tackle.

COLDEST AUGUST WEATHER IN YEARS

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. The coldest August weather in years, in some sections the coldest in the history of Weather Bureau records, sent shivers through news dispatch readers yesterday as they read reports from Washington of an impending coal crisis and a probable resulting coal shortage.

The cool weather, gathering in the northwest, spread throughout the upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys Tuesday night and yesterday, light frosts being reported from several Minnesota and Michigan points.

Last night the cold wave was spreading eastward up the St. Lawrence river valley and fair weather with rising temperatures is promised for today.

The cool weather coming in the middle of August, usually the hottest month in the Central Plain states, sent many scurrying for overcoats and cast a spirit of autumn everywhere.

The drop in temperature to 48 degrees yesterday morning in Omaha, Neb., marked the coldest Aug. 22 on record there. Sioux City, Ia., reported 43 degrees, the coldest in 32 years.

Kansas City had 52 degrees, the lowest for this date in the history of the local weather bureau. St. Louis reported a drop from 90 yesterday to 56.

A temperature of 52 degrees was recorded in a rural section near Duluth, Minn., although the official temperature for that city was 41.

Supporting King Baggott in his preference for directing over acting is Allen Holubar, once machine god of the speaking stage, and now picture producer.

"While I enjoy my life as director and producer," says Holubar, "I would be lying to say I don't miss some of the joys of the actor's life, for there is a glamour about the speaking stage that can never be forgotten."

The producer must be content to get what adulation comes his way mostly by proxy. But he may settle down, as an actor cannot, and build for the future just as in any other business. He has, of course, to devote much of his leisure time to the study of what will please the public, but if he gets it over he is not so susceptible to the proverbial blindness of the public.

"Then again, the man who makes a picture can see his handiwork in every scene, which is a privilege as well as a pleasure."

"The public demands a great deal of

GAVE LIFE TO SAVE LABORERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. John Gilman, who by dint of hard labor and study worked his way up from a New York city policeman to assistant state's attorney of Illinois, only to be beaten and dragged down again by ill health, was killed yesterday in saving the lives of a gang of six railroad track laborers.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE ON RECORD SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 23. An official temperature of 45 degrees early today and reports of low 40's degrees yesterday in market advertising districts set the lowest August temperature records in considerably more than a decade. Truck farmers fear of frosts were not realized. The mercury ran lower here than at places farther north in the Connecticut valley.

GRAPHIC STORY OF RAID
BY RUM PIRATES

YARMOUTH, N. S., Aug. 23.—A graphic story of the attack by rum pirates on the Nova Scotian schooner J. Scott Hankenson of Rockport, Mass., last Monday was brought into this port yesterday on the wings of a 40-mile southwest wind.

When darkness lifted, there could be seen riding at anchor off Yarmouth light the doughy little schooner upon whose decks armed bandits had stood, who hastened into her home port after sending her wounded skipper and cook ashore on a Gloucester fisherman.

A band of newspapermen chartered a tug and steamed down the harbor for the rest of the tale that had come haltingly from the lips of the two wounded men now lying in a Gloucester hospital. Thus got the story: It was whipped to them by the wind which caught the words the Hankenson's mate recited over her rail. A stiff wind and angry sea forced the tug's commander to keep his distance.

And this, briefly, was the story:

"The Hankenson had cleared three weeks ago with a cargo of Scotch Nasau" read her clearance papers, "but she got no farther south than Massachusetts."

"Last Monday a motorboat came alongside. Two men stepped aboard and descended into the schooner's cabin with her skipper, Arthur Moore. The cook, Henry Hart, at the time was in the cabin.

"Suddenly, Frank Moore, first mate, and his crew of three, hoisted shot coming from the cabin where their captain had been. They started toward him but seven armed men suddenly aboard the visiting craft, sprang to the schooner's decks and drove them down into the forecastle.

"Then the pirates departed with the captain's money—how much the mate did not know. The Hankenson's crew found their wounded in a serious condition and raising distress signals flagged a passing fisherman which took the captain and cook ashore."

CATHOLICS SCORE
SPIRIT OF GREED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 23—Profiteering, the spirit of greed and inflation of credit and currency are condemned in a resolution on social questions adopted by the Roman Catholic Central society at the closing session of its 6th annual convention yesterday.

The Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations are deplored in a resolution which deprecates the "continued growth and spread of an un-American organization paralleling as superstitious."

Charles Korse of Butler, N. J., was re-elected president. Mrs. Sophie Wavering, Quincy, Ill., was elected president of the Catholic Women's Union. The S. A. meeting in connection with the union will be early for summer women and girls. Mrs. Wavering said:

WILL HOLD BABY SHOW
On Monday, August 27, the North common playground expects to stage a large baby show. All children under five years of age in the vicinity of the playground are asked to participate. Experienced judges will be present to choose the three best babies, whom special prizes will be awarded.

WATCH HIM!

This is Wallace McCamant, Oregon attorney, who is credited with putting through the vice presidential nomination of Calvin Coolidge, resulting in Coolidge becoming president. Already, he is reported as about to receive offers of high positions.

INSIGHT INTO PROGRAM
OF IRISH REPUBLICANS

LONDON, Aug. 23.—An insight into the program of the Irish republicans, in the event the De Valera faction wins in the elections next week, is given in a manifesto published by Peter McGlynn, republican leader in Donegal, according to the Belfast correspondent of the Morning Post.

Assuming that the republicans win a majority in the Dail, the manifesto says that among other things they will take possession of the legislature and will form a ministry, probably with the support of the laborites. They will ignore the treaty and everything that implies British supremacy, including the governor-general, whose salary will immediately cease.

The irregulars continue the manifesto, will reduce the army to 4,000 or even to 1,000 men, substituting a volunteer force. They will introduce a comprehensive scheme of national development and economy and will cut the salaries of judges and other officials. They plan neither to acknowledge nor respect the dispatch adds, any international boundary in Ireland and will call upon England to evacuate the harbors and observe the three-mile limit.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB
The Educational club is to have its next regular meeting at Mrs. McGuire's camp, Baptist camp on Aug. 26. The camp is located on the hill in the Keaney Woods, on the south side of Keaney Square and ride to the Centre where automobiles will be in waiting to take the party to the camp. A program including sports and various other entertainments features the meeting. A meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the same time.

WILL HOLD BABY SHOW
on Aug. 27.

TWO BOSTON POLICEMEN BEATEN UP BY SAILORS

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Two police officers were so badly beaten that they required hospital treatment during a disturbance which for a time threatened to develop into a riot in Seaport square about 5 o'clock last night. The trouble began when two members of the traffic squad attempted to take into custody two sailors who had started a row in a Howard street soft drink saloon.

Patrolman Emerald Emery, 22, married, sustained a serious cut on the head when he was struck with his brother officer's club, wielded by a sailor.

Patrolman Arthur Sawyer, 27, married, was struck in the mouth with a clenched fist with sufficient force to cause him to fall backward unconscious. He sustained an injury to his skull. Both remained for observation at the Haymarket Relief hospital during the night. Their condition is not considered serious.

THE TAX RATE

Now that the tax rate is announced as $30.80, or 20 cents higher than that of last year, the general comment will be that considering the fact that all the appropriations for the year were included, in addition to $53,382 in unpaid bills of last year, it must assuredly be an honest tax rate. Most people expected that it would have been higher, and it probably would have been, but for the increase in valuation which is naturally more than the normal amount, but undoubtedly justified in view of the increased real estate values.

It has not been customary to have the supplementary budgets included in the tax rate for the current year; but Mayor Donovan insisted that these amounts should be reckoned in the rate before announcement. Hence it is, that these several sums—first $53,724 in the supplementary budget, then the $33,000 and $19,000 with some smaller items voted on Tuesday night, were all included.

Had the government been able to follow the same mode of borrowing for permanent improvements as in former years, the rate would have been lower than that of last year, as the various amounts added under the action taken at the last meeting netted $112,324 which added about 60 cents to the tax rate. This can be seen from the fact that an appropriation of $16,000 added 10 cents to the rate. So far as now appears, the rate will give very general satisfaction except in cases where the valuation was advanced so as to bear some proper relation to the excessive revenue derived from the property. It is not calculated to scare away industries that might wish to locate here, nor to drive out any already here.

LIMIT AIRCRAFT ARMAMENTS

This country will promptly approve the proposition of the American Legion for an international conference to limit air armaments, which are being increased at a rate that is a menace to the peoples of the world. It looks as if some of the powers, restrained from increasing their naval armaments, have entered into fierce competition in aerial craft. Thus France with her 149 squadrons of aircraft, each ready for combat duty, stole a march on Great Britain, and now the British parliament appropriates $25,000,000 a year for three years to increase the aircraft forces. The plan is to have fifty-two home squadrons of twelve planes each in addition to those in reserve service.

Not to be outdone, France immediately arranged to have 224 squadrons. Aroused by these warlike preparations, Russia and Italy began to provide for an air service also for "home defense." For the year 1924-5 congress will be asked to double the appropriation of the preceding year for aircraft. Thus the race of death goes on, and the inevitable end will be war in the most terrible form yet devised, for, against the bombing aeroplanes there is practically no defense.

The Legion will render a service of inestimable value to humanity, if it can initiate a movement that will bring about a limitation of aircraft organized for war purposes. With this should go the use of poison gases and other inhuman as well as barbarous to be used by civilized nations.

ADVISING THE PRESIDENT

President Coolidge has been offered expert advice from the leading officials of the United States chamber of commerce, as to what should be done in reference to important public questions awaiting settlement.

Europe should be assisted, we should join the World court, we should not favor government ownership of railroads nor government operation of a mercantile marine and, above all, we should not favor a soldiers' bonus—which is part of the old vice pounced into the president's eye by these business men.

BOLIVIA VS. COPERNICUS

Some time ago Wilbur Glenn Bell, my more toward cancellation of the war, being recently remanded. Every proposition made for leaving us, not only another discovery, further discrediting the beliefs of the greatest astronomers and claiming that at sunset and sunrise the sun is just as high above the horizon as at noon.

It is just a matter of months until consumers get the advantage of such wholesale price stamps, but consumers will be out of luck if wholesale prices suddenly recover—that is, especially to where they were in February, or higher. Many a retailer is losing sleep over those nights.

FOUR-HOUR DAY

Steinmetz, the great electrical engineer and new inventions, the people will eventually have a four-hour day for work. That would leave them the difficult task of finding time to do with the remaining 20 hours of the day; but as Mr. Steinmetz lives the year 2033 as the date of the coming of this new era, perhaps we might as well be in trouble with the problem as we shall never have occasion to take it on our own account.

"SUPER MOVIE" PRICES

Proposed "super movie films" are to be exhibited in New York at $2 a ticket. Anyone with his eyes open can see this coming, though the movie should be dirt-cheap entertainment, because it will have the advantage of electricity production.

However, movies at $2 admission will probably play, "in packed houses." American exhibitors insist, however, that some patients allow small children to run large on the streets, even exposing the main streams of traffic, making it a constant danger of death. For the parents who expect to keep their children out of such danger, a campaign of education may accomplish the end.

THE EASY MARKS

The Fall River News in discussing the inexplicable ease with which rich tycoons can sell worthless stocks to those who are always trying to get something for nothing, says the "easy mark" would not think twice with the weather. If it is a chance to get rich, then the Gulf Stream or some physical condition of the body would be the best he may enter.

There is something radically wrong with the weather. If it is a chance to get rich, then the Gulf Stream or some physical condition of the body would be the best he may enter.

A Brooklyn child woke up one morning to find his mother going through strange contortions with the telephone receiver around her alarm, and when the rescue party of neighbors arrived they discovered the mother was simply taking her "daily dozen" by radio.

Worth a Quarter

"Mama," exclaimed Teddy, "Mrs. Johnson said she would give me a nickel if I told her what you said about her." "I never heard of such a thing," answered his mother indignantly. "You're a good boy not to have told. I wouldn't have her think I ever mentioned her. Here's an apple for you—just a small one, I am afraid. I am not when she shows me the nickel I told her what you said was something awful and worth a quarter at least."

Dobbin's Wooden Leg

A horse belonging to Jacob Diamond, Hammon, Ind., has a wooden leg which is far better than none, but which has nevertheless caused him trouble or been a hindrance. Some time ago the man, who is a sharpshooter, had a single fire and would have burned his apartment. Last summer an auto bumped into the shed and broke the wooden leg. Diamond brought suit for damages in the sum of $10,000, demanding that the horse had been bruised and humiliates to that amount.

Scrappy Fresh

"Water," said the table by the window, "I am the water of an elderly man who is in continual accents." "Water," "Yes," said the much-harassed elderly man, overcome by his emotions, made a valiant effort to speak. "Please—Take this egg away," he roared. "Take it away, 'Yes, sir,'" said the water, "I am the wrong egg, full of the offending taste." "And what shall I do with it?" "Please with it." The outraged customer rose reluctantly from his chair. "To with it?" he bellowed furiously. "Why, write its neck!"

Kicking the Bucket

An old lady was on a visit to her married daughter. One day there was company and Little Theodore, the hope of the house, was doing his best to amuse his mother's visitors. Presently he left the room to return soon afterward with a zinc bucket. He planted right in front of his grandmother, while others sat wondering what was about to happen. "Grandma," said Little Theodore, "will kick me?" "Bless the child," said the surprised old lady, "why do you wish to do that, darling?" "Because," replied the young hopeful, "I heard it was awful kick when we kicked the bucket."

Very Absent-Minded

Johnson's great failing was absent-mindedness. He was always forgetting appointments, keeping them in the wrong place or at the wrong time. He was always up to the most extremely antics, his friends never failing to expect next. One day he came out of his house walked to the edge of the pavement, and threw his right leg into the air with such violence that he became unbalanced and fell on the ground, spraining his ankle and the right leg. "I'm not going to get up," he said, "I'm not going to get up." "What's the matter?" asked Johnson. "I forgot it wasn't here." "What's the matter?" replied his mother, "my brother is worse than you, only last night he got up and stuck a match to see if he had blown the candle."

PRESIDENT BELIEVES IN SCOUT MOVEMENT

The federal act of incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America provides that each year a formal report shall be transmitted to congress. The constitution of the Boy Scouts of America provides that the president of the United States shall be the honorary president of the organization and all other ex-presidents of the United States shall be honorary vice-presidents upon their acceptance.

Theodore Roosevelt received the title of chief scout citizen because of his outstanding contributions exerted for the advancement of the movement. Presidents Taft and Wilson each served the movement as honorary presidents and are now honorary vice presidents. President Harding was the third honorary president and was always an active and influential friend of the Boy Scouts.

To TUCKS

either very deep ones—round and round a straight and narrow skirt, or groups of tiny ones bordering a cut, or lattice-like, covering the surface of a Crepe de Chine frock.

To TIERs

Tiered frocks are the darlings of the Mode and come in a dozen versions—bias, straight and circular. They take all sorts of new directions and uneven lines—and they make their smartness doubly sure with a bow in the back.

To FLOUNCES

which follow the Spanish silhouette, flaring at the knee. In frocks of black satin, in the wrap-frock of cloth and in many of the slender, tube-like coats—and eighteen-inch circular flounces at the bottom is the mark of Autumn, 1923.

To PLAITS

They distinguish panels on the side; aprons in the front; capes in the back; flounces and tiers, round and round; frills from shoulder to hem. Sleeves of Georgette are plaited and so are cuffs and collars and gilets. Everywhere—Plaits.

To LINGERIE ToUCHES

The lingerie touch on the dark frock is a delightful and universally becoming fashion. It may be embroidered net collar and cuffs, a lower sleeve of cream fllet and batiste or a gilet of tucked Georgette. Lace ruffles at neck and sleeve, or cream lace frills on the left side of the bodice have been emphasized by the best Parisian dressmakers.

To COLORED EMBROIDERY

usually of Oriental inspiration. Chinese designs in porcelain blue and rose with dragons in jade and gold are among the most arresting and unusual features. Beads, in many instances, furnish the color note—sparingly used but lavish in hue. All-over designs of beads, cut steel, gold, or crystal are as smart as ever. Rhinestone embroideries decorate some of the newest blouses.

To THE NEW SLEEVE

which is long—suddenly long—after the sleeveless of the past season; and often tight to the wrist—there flaring in a frill or circular cuffs. Never still (paradoxically) is the Leg o' Mutton sleeve—often of lingerie or embroidery.

HAS SPLENDID RECORD

No Black Marks Against Man 37 Years With Street Railway Company

Thirty-seven years on one job and still going strong is the record held by Charles Hutchinson, senior operating foreman of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company.

"Hutch," as he is called by his friends, started with the street railway company's predecessor in June, 1886, and has been in rating ever since without a break. His first job with the company was as driver of a horse car, and he held this job for three years, when the first electric cars made their appearance upon the city streets. He became a motorman on the electrics and has always held this position not becoming an operator when the one-man cars made their appearance here because his rating gives him first choice in holding on cars and he has always chosen a two-man car.

In his 37 years at the controller and brake handle of an electric car, "Hutch" has never had a very serious accident and he has never had a black mark placed against his name on the discipline card of the company.

From the advent of the electric car up to three years ago, when the one-man car entered the lists, "Hutch" was motorman on the Lowell-Lakeview-Salem line and he knows every post, tree and house on that line. Since the one-man car service started, "Hutch" has been motorman on the Lowell-Lawrence line, leaving the car barn at about 5 o'clock in the morning and completing his daily work at 6:30 in the afternoon.

Mr. Hutchinson's story of his life is exceptionally interesting. He was born in Nova Scotia, May 22, 1855, and received his education there. At the age of 17 he worked his way down to New York on board one of the coastwise sailing vessels and signed up at the metropolis as an able seaman on one of the American trading vessels, the followers of the clipper ships and the last of Uncle Sam's merchant marine. His boat sailed from New York and Boston for ports in Europe, Asia Minor, Africa and South America, trading at every port of call and often being on a voyage for eight months to a year or more at a time. Navigation was the only thing he could study on board ship and within a few years he was third mate, and before leaving the sea became a second mate—quite an honor for a man less than 26 years of age.

After quitting his ship in New York, he came to Boston and got employment with the old Boston and Lynn railroad. For two years he stayed at this job and then came in the Navy Yard district of Braintree and became a weaver in the old mill there.

Inside work did not agree with this raw-boned son of the Provinces and after three years as a weaver he entered the employ of the Braintree Street Railway company as a driver on horse cars. The sailor lad was right at home on the jolting, rattling, jolting platform of those cars and stood with them company automatically boarding an employee of the Bay State company when that took over the Braintree road, and has stayed with them ever since.

Although many things have happened in the 37 years that "Hutch" has been on the road, the one outstanding event that has remained most vivid in his mind is the changeover from horse cars to electrically propelled trolley cars. His stories of the old horse-car days are still too familiar to many who have lived here for the past 20 years, but drive home to the younger element the fact that life was not shown with roses in those days. His stories of driving a snowplow drawn by eight horses and being snowbound in the snow for a period of two days and nights suffice to make the listeners shiver even in these days when the majority of the snow plows run by the street railway company are equipped with stoves and when 20 hours' continuous service on a snow is considered quite a stunt.

Mr. Hutchinson is, according to the street railway men, a walking weather bureau for his training at sea taught him to forecast the weather and his forecasts are often much more accurate than the weather bureau's.

"Hutch" is married and lives at 8 Staden Street, Braintree. He has one son, Paul, a graduate of Dartmouth, college class of 1920, and now cashier of the American Express company at Peking, China.

Although "Hutch" is 68 years old there are many men his own age and but half his age who would be afraid to tackle him, for he is in the state of condition and seems good for many years to come.

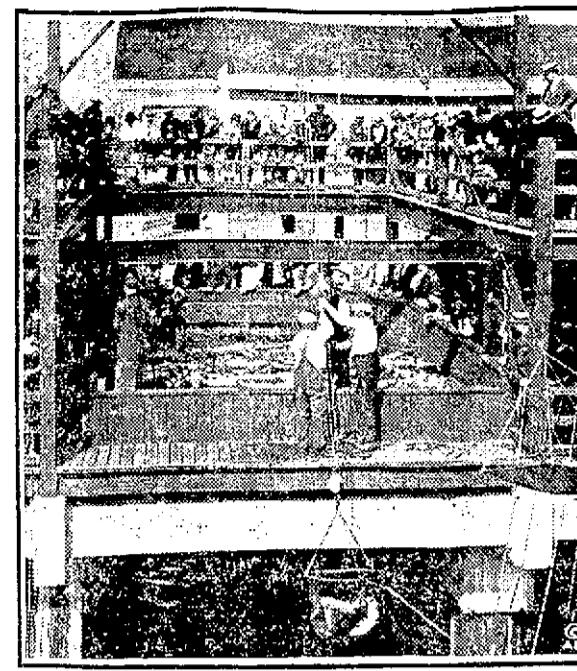

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

"Thousands and thousands of people," says Peterson of Boston, "are learning every day that the secret lies in Peterson's Ointment with its special ointment and balsam pills and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money."

MILE TO GET AID

INTENT TO KILL

NOW A REALITY

NORTHPORT, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The story of a mile swim through the chilly waters of Long Island sound Tuesday night by 14-year-old Margaret Canfield, of Brooklyn, in order to obtain aid for her brother and three others who were adrift in a rowboat, was told yesterday after they had been picked up off Port Jefferson. The girl and her companions lost an hour with a mile from shore. They were clad in bathing suits and Miss Canfield plunged overboard to recover the car. The boat drifted away before the stiff wind and when she saw she could not reach it with the oars, gazed at the twinkling lights of Northport. Using a slow stroke, the girl fought the dangerous currents successfully and finally dragged herself ashore exhausted. She was able to tell her story and in a short time many boats were sending the sound for the boat. It was found by fishermen who had joined the search. The frightened occupants had taken turns paddling with the single oar during the night and were weak from the effort.

The east-bound flyer early today had a long lead over Wednesday morning's relay, being nearly five hours ahead, due entirely to the delay caused by impermeable fog at Laramie, Wyo., Tuesday night, and an earlier start from the latter date.

So far the relays have been completed without accident. Tuesday night's fog at Laramie caused the only temporary interruption.

No chipping bar soap—
No making soap jelly—
No more hard rubbing

You don't need to bother with bar soap any more This new kind of soap takes its place~does the whole job~

A WHOLE heavy wash. It is no small job to go over every single piece in it with a piece of bar soap.

The extra rubbing on the dirtiest places. Then the heavy, heavy rubbing of the wet clothes on the washboard.

That is the hardest part of washday. The part that takes a woman's time and strength. It is the one thing that every woman would give anything in the world to be spared from.

Today you don't have to go through all that back-breaking, hours-long drudgery. There's a new kind of soap that women all over the country are using because with it just soaking takes the place of all that hard rubbing.

This new soap, Rinso, is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soap makers in the world. It is as wonderful for the family wash as Lux is for fine fabrics, or silks, or woolens.

The pure Rinso suds are so rich in cleansing power, yet gentle and mild, that just soaking clothes in it loosens all the dirt, and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and shining as you never could get them before.

Only spots where someone has actually ground in the dirt—neck bands, cuff edges and the like—will need a light rubbing. For this light rubbing you sprinkle a little Rinso on the fabric, and the most obstinate spots disappear at once.

One woman says: "Rinso is a wonderful saver of time and strength. It is easier on my clothes than the old way of rubbing the dirt out, and a thousand times easier on me!"

You don't have to change any of your washday methods with Rinso. Just use it wherever you used to use bar soap—for soaking, for boiling or in washing machines.

You don't need any other soap, or any soap powder. Rinso does the whole job. Fifty-five million packages of it were used last year. That tells you how much women like it.

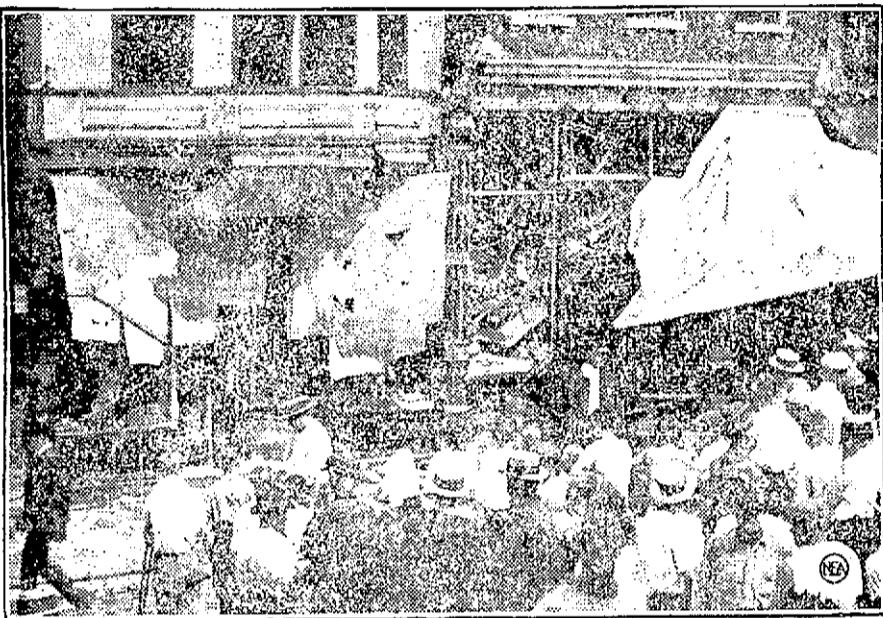

Rinso is in all grocery and department stores. In the regular size, and the big new package for women who want lots of it. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 9

When Jack and the captain reached the deck at the bow of the big boat, the captain pointed away up to the top of the great masts. "Now, I want to see how good you are at climbing ropes and riggings," he said. "Go ahead, young man, and let's see you scale your way to the top mast."

Jack had seen the other men go swiftly up the ropes and he remembered that they never wore their outer shirts. So he removed his and started up the riggings. It wasn't as easy to do as Jack had imagined, but he finally managed to reach the top of the mast, far above the deck.

As the little adventurer looked down, it seemed that the captain was miles below him. But when the gruff commander of the ship shouted, "That was fine! Now come down," Jack knew that it wasn't as far up as it seemed. And he was glad that the captain was satisfied. (Continued.)

BALDWIN TO VISIT POINCARERecognizes Futility of Further Exchange of Lengthy
Notes on Reparations IssueReady to Discuss Whole
Problem in Light of French
Premier's Latest Note

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press) Recognizing the futility of a further exchange of lengthy notes on the reparations issue, Prime Minister Baldwin has decided to meet Premier Poincare upon the former's return from his vacation at Aix-les-Bains. It is known today.

The British premier will not formally ask his French colleague for an appointment, but will make known quietly through second parties his readiness to discuss the whole reparations problem in the light of the French premier's latest note.

The British premier feels that while in France he should profit by the suggestion contained at the end of M. Poincare's note that France was ready to discuss the indemnity problem verbally. It is thought possible Lord Curzon, the secretary for foreign affairs, may participate in this conference, since he plans to remain for some time at Bagnoles, where he is at present recuperating.

Both Aix-les-Bains and Bagnoles are within easy train distance of Paris. It is felt there is no immediate need of such a verbal exchange of views and in fact that it would be preferable to postpone it until the British government experts charged with the study of reparations clauses have carefully examined all the clauses of the French note and presented their findings to the cabinet.

The meeting, therefore, in all likelihood, will take place after Mr. Baldwin has had his vacation and has the considered and matured judgment of the cabinet before him.

Returns From Country

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press) Prime Minister Baldwin returned to London from the country last night and took a preliminary look at the French note. Time will be allowed the ministers to consider the arguments of Premier Poincare before any formal cabinet discussion takes place.

Mr. Baldwin leaves Saturday for Aix-les-Bains, France, where he is likely to give full consideration to the latest communication from the French government. Before returning to England, the prime minister may meet Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary, who is staying at Bagnoles, Normandy. It is suggested that he may also visit Premier Poincare, coming home by way of Paris.

In the meantime, no definite development in the situation is expected and it is not supposed that the British cabinet will convene until Mr. Baldwin returns.

Most of the morning newspapers feel that Premier Poincare's note has not changed the situation.

FIRE DESTROYS GARAGE AND AUTOMOBILES

Damages estimated at nearly $4000 was caused by an early morning fire in the garage of Charles P. Mulvey at 49 Livingston street, the wooden structure being destroyed beyond repair and two Ford automobiles, the property of Charles P. Mulvey Jr., completely demolished. A trial machine, a Buick sedan, owned by John McLean, was rescued from the burning building by the younger Mulvey and a party of volunteers.

The fire was discovered about 12:45 o'clock this morning. When Mr. Mulvey and his family were aroused, the flames had gained considerable headway and it was evident that the property was doomed. The discovery of the blaze was made by a railroad engineer who immediately telephoned Officer John Burns and aroused the sleeping occupants of the house. The officer sounded the alarm from box 222, and when the firemen arrived on the scene, the spreading flames had enveloped the entire structure.

It is believed the fire started in that part of the barn used as storage room for the Mulvey machines, a Ford touring and a Ford coupe. The coupe was used earlier in the evening and when was nothing to indicate fire when the car was put up for the night. During the afternoon a final report was made by engineers in the vicinity and Mr. Mulvey attributed the head noise to the explosion of gasoline in the ruined car.

In view of the fact that the barn is situated in close proximity to the factory dwelling, the men continually poured streams of water on the houses, a high wind was blowing at the time and flying embers could easily have spread to the adjoining building. The fire was confined to the barn, however.

The two machines destroyed by the blaze were not insured, while the barn itself carried only partial insurance.

LOWELL MEN PRESENT

Lively Hearing at State
House on New Bill Board
Regulations

(Special to The Lowell Sun) BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The New Bedford board of commerce and the Lowell chamber of commerce stirred up a little trouble at the hearing at the state house over the new bill board regulations asking for what seemed like special privilege for the chamber of commerce. A. G. Thackeray of the New Bedford chamber of commerce stated that the body he represented believed that the department of highways should permit signs on state highways signed by the chamber of commerce of New Bedford. Such signs, he said, have been prohibited as the department rules that the signature constitutes advertising. He stated that chambers of commerce are anxious to maintain information bureaus for tourists and that unless they can enter some such direction signs their information bureaus are worthless.

A communication was entered from the Lowell chamber of commerce stating it believed that route signs and direction signs should be permitted.

This brought instantaneous objection from Ralph Bauer, president of the Lynn chamber of commerce. Bauer said that he wanted to see no chamber of commerce signs on the highways, nor any "historical or hysterical signs."

The chamber of commerce should not come to the state house, he declared, and see any such privilege.

The communication from the Lowell chamber of commerce stated that the general sentiment in the Lowell district was against the garish disfiguring bill boards and that the "Lowell railroad station was a disgraceful mess of signs."

For an entire day opponents of the bill boards fought for drastic bill board regulations insisting that there be a standard bill board in Massachusetts of four feet in height and eight feet in length. The bill board interests will be given a hearing at the state house September 5.

To Discuss Plan to Supply Fuel
Continued

Yesterday to send representatives to assist in formulating an emergency distributing system.

Parley of Governors

The invitation for a conference with representatives of the interstate commerce commission and the principal eastern railroads to consider tentative plans for the institution of central distributing agencies in each state, with supervisory headquarters in Washington, went to the executives of 11 states—the New England group and those along the Middle Atlantic seaboard. It was dispatched after conference during the day between President Coolidge and heads of the government agencies concerned.

Instruction On Use Of Substitutes

In addition to considering a tentative scheme of distribution already worked out by Mr. Wadeigh, the New York conference, the governors were informed, will endeavor to evolve practical plans for instructing the public in the use of substitute fuels for anthracite. This was seen to be in line with the view held by the administration from the first that the public itself by turning to substitute fuels would exert strong pressure on any strike situation that developed.

While none still survived in administration circles that the anthracite miners and operators would find a way to avert a stoppage of the mines on Sept. 1, there was no indication today of any intention to further government intervention in the situation at this time.

Cost of Coal Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The cost of labor in production of one ton of anthracite increased from $1.62 in 1913 to $2.07 in the first quarter of 1923. The United States coal commission announced today in a report giving the result of its exhaustive study into production costs in the hard coal industry. The report, called attention, however, that while labor costs formed 61 per cent of the sales realization price in 1913, they had dropped to 59.5 per cent in 1923.

Based upon sworn reports from 146 producers, representing 98 per cent of the total output, the commission's study considered in great detail every phase of the financial side of anthracite production. Separate analyses were made of operators classified as railroad companies, larger independent and small independents, a final comparison being made of the returns from 13 companies who supplied comprehensive reports for the January-March period of 1923.

In the case of ten railroad companies, the commission found the labor expense factor to be $2.02 for the first quarter of this year, compared with $2.00 in October-December, 1922, supplies unchanged at $0.71, general expenses $0.51, compared with $0.57, and the total "cost of cost" $3.24 compared with $3.51. With a sales realization of 63 per cent, this gave the companies under study a "margin" of $1.04 a ton as compared with $1.01 in the first quarter of last year.

These representative independents were shown to have paid $1.44 a ton in October-December, 1922, $1.60 for supplies against $0.68, and $1.04 for general expenses instead of $1.07, the total cost of production being $3.22 against $3.29 this year, the independent receiving a margin of $1.25 against $1.16 in the fourth quarter of 1922.

"That margin cannot be considered a return to the operator," the report concluded. "It is practically equivalent to the operating income before payment of interest on federal taxes. It is not a good measure for trying to arrive at relative profits of different operations."

With special regard to indicated increase in labor costs, the report said: "Two important facts should be kept in mind: only a part of the increase is due to increased wage scales, a part being attributable to the greater amount of labor necessary in later years to produce a ton of coal, due to physical changes in the mines, etc. Another consideration which applies to labor costs as well as other costs and to sales realization, is that the purchasing power of the dollar was much greater in 1913 than in 1923."

"The labor cost each successive year has either equalled or exceeded the previous year except that, following the strike year, 1922, the labor cost for January-March, 1923, was lower."

Average cost of supplies was given

POSTOFFICE DEPT. HALTS MANY SWINDLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The United States government takes considerable care in protecting the bank accounts of its citizens, and many and varied are the schemes it is called upon to use in order that the gullible will not lose their savings of years. But perhaps the most interesting of all is the method of the postoffice department, which issues "fraud orders" to eliminate from the mails the circulars and advertisements of the get-rich-quick swindlers.

How much this system actually saves investors during a year it is almost impossible to estimate. In one recent instance, as the result of a single fraud order, 21,000 letters, each believed to contain a dollar bill, were intercepted and returned to the senders.

When investigators of the postoffice suspect an individual or company of sending through the mails letters or advertising matter of a fraudulent nature, inspectors are given the case to gather evidence. Should suspicions be backed by facts, the persons are called to give reason why a fraud order should not be issued against them. A hearing is conducted and, if the charges are sustained, all postmasters are ordered to return to the person or company in question. Those not bearing return addresses find their way to the Dead Letter office, and the money enclosed is turned into the national treasury. Very often the fraud order is followed by court action against the offenders.

In recent months Postmaster General New has instituted a determined campaign against mail frauds. Equally have his efforts been directed against purveyors of worthless oil stock and bonds in the southwest. As a result many operators have been tripped up in their premises of thousands of per cent of profit to their duped investors.

Fake stocks are the principal commodity dealt in by those who milk gullible readers of circulars and advertisements, but many unique and interesting schemes to market other commodities have been uncovered by the department's activities. One of the most recent was the case of a man who advertised blooded hunting dogs at very low prices and delivered menagerie picked up at random, and faked pedigrees.

Another advertiser boasted of having found a sure cure for tuberculosis, but when government chemists discovered the brown, slimy liquid was covered the brown, slimy liquid was mainly crocodile and miasma, a fraud order speedily put him out of business.

Set out to beat the prohibition laws, often came to the attention of the postal authorities. Several consisted of powders to which water was to be added to produce wines, beers or other alcoholic drinks. Offenders held that the materials actually contained alcohol if they violated the dry laws whereas if they did not they violated the postal fraud regulations.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERIMAAK SQUARE THEATRE

The new Rex Beach film production, "Fair Lady," one of the features at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday, is a heart-throbbing drama set in pulse-quenching drama with an international coloring. The action of the story has all of the typical Rex Beach snap and adventurous complications, but the theme is one of romantic love, with several scenes of romantic love, with several scenes of all normal feelings of both sexes to all normal feelings of both sexes. Betty Hutton has the leading role.

The other feature of the current program is "The Test of the Sea," a sensational photoplay aimed in natural colors. The story is founded on a legend of China and an all-star cast interprets the various roles.

RIALTO VIDEOTHEQUE

Alice Lake and Milton Sills, two of the most versatile screen stars, have the most interesting program, "Environment" which is being shown on the Rialto screen the latter half of the week.

Milton Sills is seen in the role of "Chicago Sal," one of Chicago's lead underworld characters, and the leading character of the story, to the extent of never had chance. She is content to follow the path of virtue, because it is the easiest way. Then suddenly she is brought into sharp contact with the country, with its simple, quiet virtues, and Chicago Sal's redemption is in sight.

Milton Sills is seen in the role of a sturdy son of the soil who, when Chicago Sal falls in love with him, is brought into sharp contact with the leading character of the story, to the extent of never had chance.

Little Richard Headrick, famous juvenile star has splendid part in "Environment" and you will enjoy his performance.

The other feature on the program is "An Old Sweetheart," a film version of James Whitcomb Riley's immortal poem. The leading parts are enacted by Elliott Dexter and Helen Jerome Eddy.

Stan Laurel, in also on the program as well as a Tatne News.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The ticket sale for the opening performance at the B. F. Keith theatre, next week, opened today at the box office. There is every indication that the premiere will be as attractive as any as for any season in the past, and this is accomplished without any knowledge as to just what will comprise the bill. Stated to us at this time that there will be good balance to the bill, and that it will measure up to the opening bill for any year since the theatre opened. This is the beginning of the 14th season of the theatre, and all bills to be a real success.

THE STRAND

"Daughters of the Night," the newest Gauner production, with William Cooper, Gaston and Stuart Holmes, Ethel Shannon and others of screen note, opens a three days' engagement at the Strand starting today. In quality of entertainment, "Daughters of the Night" even surpasses the two previous Gauner productions, "The Man's Wife," The story is of "Rich Men's Wives." The story is of the gaudy, gaudy action of the higher class. Intriguing characters lead to Russia, France and the Orient, providing scenes of exceptional beauty, gaudy costumes and thrilling action. The story concerns the American wife who has been decided to marry her daughter to a title, despite the fact that the daughter has strong desires to give her heart up to one of her school-day sweethearts who comes from the "common lot." The influence of the mother, however, has its way and the girl is betrothed to a duke. There is another girl who represents this duke's sweetheart, but she is soothed by the assurance from the duke that he is marrying the American simply and solely for her money, and in due time he will be separated from her and in a position to marry her. That's the beginning of an all-absorbing, dramatic story that has many interesting and side twists that the family is reached.

"Coch My Smoke," the newest Tom Mix offering, will be the second feature, it's a story of a refined soldier from France, who finds that there is a scheme on hand to get rid of him when a gang of cut-throats discover oil on his ranch. Do they succeed? See the picture and learn the results.

CAN'T BORROW MONEY FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

The citizens of Dracut at a special town meeting held in May voted to borrow the sum of $75,000 for the rebuilding of their old one-room school, which was burned. Work on the building was started and rushed along in anticipation of the loan, but a few days ago when Town Treasurer George H. Stevens attempted to negotiate the loan, he was informed by State Accountant Waddell that the money could not be borrowed as the action of the town meeting was illegal because of the fact that in borrowing $75,000 the town would exceed its borrowing capacity.

When the loan was voted last May the town's borrowing capacity was $65,000, but since that time the payment of a note brought the borrowing capacity to $74,000 or just $1,000 shy of making the special meeting action entirely valid. Work on the school, however, will be continued and in all probability the selectmen will call a special meeting to take some action to relieve the situation.

Mayor Says Tax Rate An Honest One and make last year's tax rate $33 instead of $26.60.

"The tax rate this year is $30.00 and the book is closed on any more appropriations. Furthermore, every department will live within the appropriations voted. There will be no financial derelicts for next year's government to assume. As a result of the financial policy now in effect, and with department heads realizing that they must get more value out of every dollar they spend, we are headed downward in tax rates in this city prior to her marriage.

Johnson of Detroit, Failure Last Year, Appears Ready to Deliver

By BILLY EVANS

Usually it takes about three years before a pitcher becomes real valuable to a major league club.

Most "bushers" coming to the big show have any number of faults that must be corrected before they can be said to have acquired a big league pitcher.

Pitchers like Dale Donahue—who came direct from a small college and made good in his first time out—are made good in the big time out—arcade the decided exception to the rule.

Nine out of every ten pitchers need seasoning, which can only be acquired through experience. But the older pitchers, who often come direct from the minor leagues, have much more opportunity to pitch a few innings and there also help greatly.

Hard Work With Marquard

Marquard labored a long time with "titles" Marquard before he became a valuable asset to the Giants. A more impatient manager would have used snap judgment, which would have meant a trip back to the minors for Marquard who did not stay very badly in the minors.

For five or six years Connie Mack experimented with Rube Naylor. When Naylor won eight of his first nine starts this year it was apparent that Marquard and efforts had been rewarded.

Every major league manager of today finds pitching his biggest trouble. Invariably the highly touted minor league recruits failed to step right in and often failed to keep them from having a regular birth.

Usually it is poise. Under the fire of the big show they will and seem valuation this year.

"I am confident that our citizens are quite satisfied with the tax rate, and that they know it is a legitimate and fair one. I will continue to go along with the tax rate as long as I pledged myself to do in my inaugural statement: reducing waste and extravagance to a minimum, and endeavoring to obtain as much value as possible out of every dollar of city money. It is a policy that I am finding no easy task to follow, but I am going to stick to it, regardless of consequences. There is but little to hold in a public office unless one tries to be consistent. Tax rates will take care of themselves if public expenditures are decently and properly regulated."

Worth Its Weight in Gold, States A. J. Dion

"To say that Tanlac has been worth its weight in gold to me is only a mild way of expressing it. For six bottles of the medicine have done for me what other treatments costing thousands of dollars failed to do," is the emphatic statement of Arthur J. Dion, 236 Dickenson street, Springfield, Mass.

"Before taking Tanlac I had four operations, and nothing seemed to do me a dollar's worth of good. For years I had suffered with stomach trouble, enduring agony that is beyond description. I had headaches and dizzy spells that left me weak as a rag, and my nerves were so upset I scarcely got any sleep."

"I eat anything I want now without harm, my nerves are steady, I sleep like a child and have gained 12 pounds in weight. I would spare no expense to get Tanlac if I needed it again."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute, over 37 million bottles sold.

Women Sought By Detectives

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Two women are being sought today by detectives searching for three months' old Lillian McKenzie, kidnapped from her carriage on a Manhattan street last Saturday. One of the women is a beggar. Saturday afternoon she visited a number of houses in Manhattan's lower west side, a crying baby in her arms, seeking money. She said she was the mother of eight children, all in bad health. The other woman is the childless wife of a man whose fondness for children made him desert her because there was none in his home. Since the kidnapping, it was learned, this woman has visited her former home seeking information as to the whereabouts of her husband. She is said to have told neighbors that she has a baby now and "they can't take it away from me."

Food Shortage Due to Speculation

DUESSELDORF, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press) The food shortage in the Ruhr has been shown by information reaching the French authorities to be due largely to speculation instead of lack of receipts of foodstuffs, the authorities declared today. It was stated that 824 carloads of foodstuffs entered the occupied area yesterday while 32 carloads were shipped out by merchants who were taking advantage of the higher prices elsewhere.

START WORK ON NEW DOUBLE TRACK CURVE

The street railway company started work this morning on the double-track curve that is to replace the present switch-over and single-track curve at the corner of Button and Merrimack streets.

A wire crew of the company arrived at the corner early this morning and started to lay out the trolley and guy wires that will be necessary at this point.

The plans drawn by the street railroad company for this job call for the removal of the present rail on the curve and the placing of the new double-curve in the centre of Button street.

At the present time the curved rail is within a few feet of the sidewalk, making it impossible for automobile to pass a car at this point. This has caused many narrow escapes and quite a few rear-end collisions between automobiles and electric cars.

The new curve will do away with this danger and will also eliminate the crossing over on Merrimack street in front of the Y.M.C.A. building. This switch-over has been the cause of many traffic jams and its removal will greatly expedite the handling of automobile traffic at this busy point during the rush hours.

It is expected that a crew of trackmen will start the actual track work within a week or so.

It is also an excellent cold medicine for getting pounds of nose.

Over four million people are using Nuxederm. It does not irritate the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often remove the richness from the blood, which may be refunded by the manufacturer. It is not astringent, but it does not wash satisfactorily.

It dissolves the uric acid, lessens the system and leaves you without pain or ache. Look for the "Nuxederm" label on every pack. Take no other. Adv. 1/2 oz. leading drugists. Trial size 30 cents.

Be a Movie Director—
It's Easier Than Starring

ALLEN HOLUBAR

KING BAGGOTT

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23.—Three years ago King Baggott, among the first movie stars, stepped off the screen to become a motion picture director.

The past year has turned many of the older retired film favorites back, but Baggott, despite the most tempting offers, has refused to forsake the microphone he's wielding at Universal.

"Comfort" is his explanation for the backstage preference.

"As a man grows older he feels the need of settling down in ease and relaxation." What shocking prose from the lips of one who in his long day of popularity enthralled legions as the very prince of romance. But there you have it, direct and very much matter of fact.

"There are some pleasing features of the star's life that are missed by directors," continued Baggott, "but after all the latter have greater opportunity to live their lives as they see fit, and to seek in their waning years, a solid comfort denied the actor."

"While the director-producer has to depend largely upon the public for success, he is not so prominent in the public eye. It is not so critical of his appearance and mannerisms. It depends upon him only to create a pleasure and artistic effect."

"He does not have to concentrate his energies upon memorized roles, nor does he have to be constantly on the qui vive like the actor."

"Then again the man who makes a picture can see his handiwork in every scene, which is a privilege as well as a pleasure."

COLDEST AUGUST WEATHER IN YEARS

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The coldest August weather in years in some sections the coldest in the history of Weather Bureau records, sent shivers through news dispatch readers yesterday as they read reports from Washington of an impending coal crisis and a probable resulting coal shortage.

The cool weather, gathering in the northwest, spread throughout the upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys Tuesday night and yesterday, light frost being reported from several Minnesota and Michigan points.

Last night the cold area was spreading eastward up the St. Lawrence river valley and fair weather with rising temperatures is promised for today.

The cool weather coming in the middle of August, usually the hottest month in the Central Plain states, sent many scurrying for overcoats and cast a spirit of autumn everywhere.

The drop in temperature to 45 degrees yesterday morning in Omaha, Neb., marked the coldest Aug. 22 on record there. Sioux City, Ia., reported 43 degrees, the coldest in 32 years.

Kansas City had 52 degrees, the lowest for this date in the history of the local weather bureau. St. Louis reported for this date in the history of the local weather bureau. St. Louis reported a drop from 92 yesterday to 54.

A temperature of 32 degrees was recorded in a rural section near Duluth, Minn., although the official temperature for that city was 41.

BOY HOLDING KITE

STRING "FLOATS" 50 FT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The wind whistled pretty loudly in Brooklyn streets yesterday.

Vito Ciclo, aged 11, was standing on the roof of his Monroe st. home flying a kite twice his size when one of the gusts came along. A second later, still clutching the kite string, he floated six feet to the street. But the kite served as a parachute and soon Vito, who had been sent to bed, was heading for more aerial adventures.

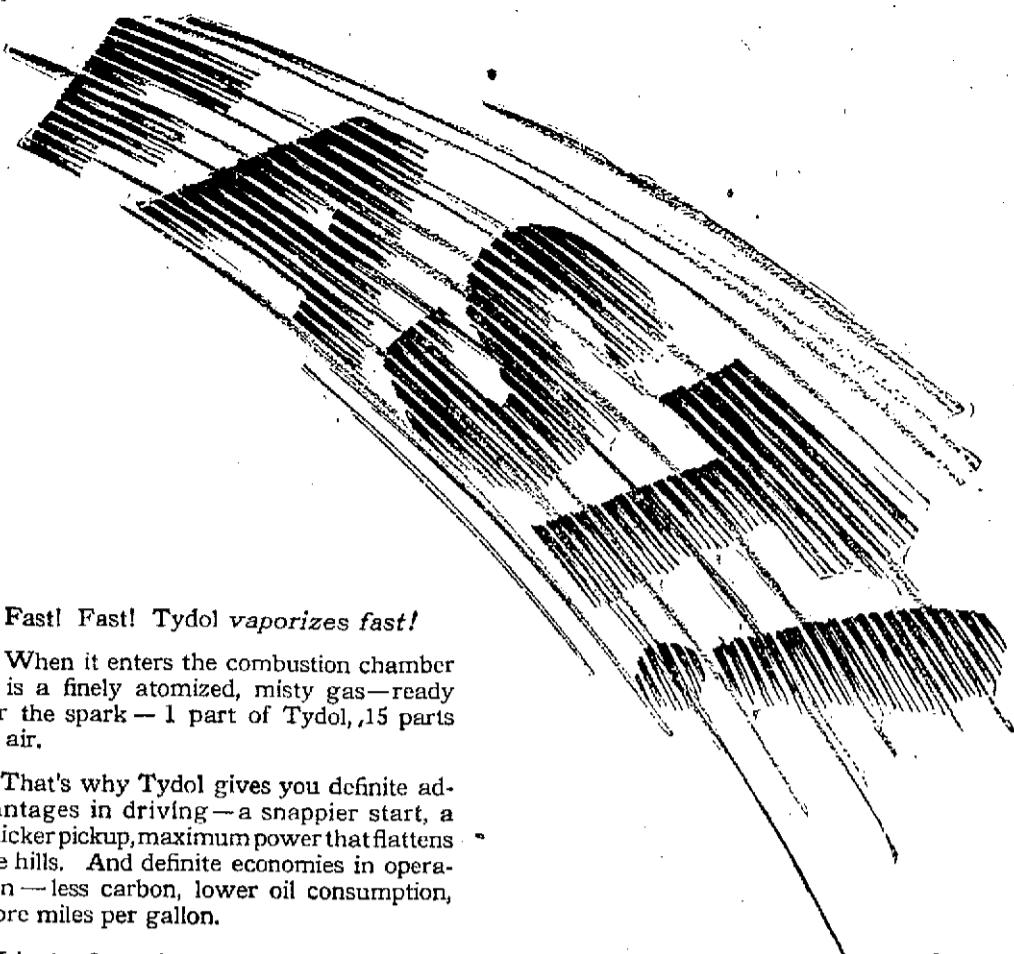

GAVE LIFE TO

SAVE LABORERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—John Gilmarin, who by dint of hard labor and study worked his way up from a New York city policeman to assistant attorney of Illinois, only to be broken and dragged down again by ill health, was killed yesterday in saving the lives of a gang of six railroad track laborers.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE ON RECORD

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 23.—An official temperature of 46 degrees early today and reported as low as 41 degrees in outlying market gardening districts set the lowest August temperature on record in consideration of the fact that in former years four frosts were not realized. The mercury can lower hereabout than at places farther north in the Connecticut valley.

GRAPHIC STORY OF RAID
BY RUM PIRATES

YARMOUTH, N. S., Aug. 23.—A graphic story of the attack by rum pirates on the Nova Scotian schooner J. Scott Hankenson of Rockport, Mass., last Monday was brought into this port yesterday on the wings of a 40-mile southwester.

When darkness lifted, there could be seen riding at anchor off Yarmouth light the doughty little schooner upon whose decks armed bandits had stood and who hastened into her home port after sending her wounded skipper and cook ashore on a Gloucester fisherman.

A band of new-pirates chartered a tug and steamed down the harbor for the rest of the tale that had gone haltingly from the lips of the two wounded men now lying in a Gloucester hospital. They got the story: It was whistled to them by the wind which caught the words the Hankenson's mate snatched over her call. A stiff wind and angry sea forced the tug's commander to keep his distance.

And this, briefly, was the story:

"The Hankenson had cleared three weeks ago with a cargo of Scotch 'Nasap' rum and clearance papers, but she got no farther south than Massachusetts."

"Last Monday a motorboat came alongside. Two men stepped aboard and descended into the schooner's cabin with her skipper, Arthur Moore. The cook, Henry Harral, at the time was in the cabin."

"Suddenly, Frank Moore, first mate, and his crew of three heard shots coming from the cabin, where their captain called for help. They started toward him but seven armed men hid down aboard the visiting craft, sprang to the schooner's deck, and drove them down into the forecastle."

"Then the pirates departed with the captain's money—how much the mate did not know. The Hankenson's crew found their wounded in a serious condition and raising distress signals flagged a passing fisherman which took the captain and cook ashore."

CATHOLICS SCORE
SPIRIT OF GREED

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Aug. 23.—Pleas of steering, the spirit of greed and indifference of credit and currency are condemned in a resolution on social questions adopted by the Roman Catholic Central society at the closing session of its 67th annual convention yesterday.

The Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations are denounced in a resolution which deprecates the "united growth and spread of an un-American organization paralleling its anti-patriotic."

Charles Korge of Butler, N. J., was re-elected president. Mrs. Sophie Wariner, Quincey, Ill., was elected president of the Catholic Women's Union U. S. A. meeting in conjunction with the central society. The chief work of the union will be caring for immigrant women and girls. Mrs. Wariner said.

WILL HOLD HADY SHOW
On Monday, August 27, the North common playground expects to stage a large, hot show. All children under five years of age in the vicinity of the playground are asked to participate. Experienced judges will be present to choose the three best bands to whom suitable prizes will be awarded.

WATCH HIM!

This is Wallace McCamant, Oregon attorney, who is credited with putting through the vice presidential nomination of Calvin Coolidge, resulting in Coolidge becoming president. Already, he is reported as about to receive offers of high positions.

INSIGHT INTO PROGRAM

LONDON, Aug. 23.—An insight into the program of the Irish republicans, in the event the De Valera faction wins in the elections next week, is given in a manifesto published by Peter McGinley, republican agent in Donegal, according to the Belfast correspondent of the Morning Post.

Assuming that the republicans win a majority in the Dail, the manifesto says that among other things they will take possession of the legislature and will form a ministry, probably with the support of the laborites. They will ignore the treaty and everything that includes British supremacy, including the governor-general, whose salary will immediately cease.

The republicans, continues the manifesto, will reduce the army to 5000 or even to 1000 men, substituting a volunteer force. They will introduce a comprehensive scheme of national development and economy and will cut the salaries of judges and other officials. They plan neither to acknowledge nor respect the disputed border, any international boundary in Ireland and will call upon England to evacuate the harbors and observe the three-mile limit.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB
The Educational club is to have its next regular meeting at Mrs. Macneile's camp, Baptists, on Aug. 27. These campers will board the 9:55 a.m. Indianapolis Center car at Keweenaw square and ride to the Centre where automobiles will be in waiting to take the party to the camp. A program including sports and various other interesting features, occupies the main portion of the pleasant afternoon. During the course of the meeting the hospital committee will serve luncheon.

TWO BOSTON POLICEMEN BEATEN UP BY SAILORS

BOSTON, AUG. 23.—Two police officers were so badly beaten that they required hospital treatment during a disturbance which for a time threatened to develop into riot in Scollay square about 5 o'clock last night. The trouble began when two members of the traffic squad attempted to take into custody two sailors who had started a row in a Flaword street soft drink saloon.

Patrolman Emerald Emery, 22, married, sustained a serious cut on the head when he was struck with his brother officer's club, wielded by a sailor.

Patrolman Arthur Sawyer, 27, married, was struck in the mouth with a clenched fist with sufficient force to cause him to fall backward unconscious. He sustained an injury to his skull. Both remained for observation at the Haymarket Relief hospital during the night. Their condition is not considered serious.

SPKES WELL FOR FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES

The following from "Motor World" relative to four-wheel brakes is interesting, especially at this time, when there is so much controversy over this new automobile feature:

"All the people in the automotive industry and half the people outside of it, it would seem, are talking about four wheel brakes. This development is the chief topic of conversation in all manufacturing centers in the industry and wherever automobile merchants congregate. The latest piece of news having to do with four wheel brakes comes from the insurance industry, as follows: 'Cognizance of the four wheel brake is taken by at least one insurance company which has sent out notice to its automobile agencies that it will allow a reduction of 10 per cent in the collision rate and 5 per cent in the property damage rate on 1923 models equipped with four wheel braking systems.'

Y. M. H. A. JUNIORS
At a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Juniors held last evening in the Hebrew Free school with President Greenbaum presiding, plans for the fall social program were discussed. The following committee was chosen to arrange for a dance to be held in October: M. Brown, E. Zickling and C. Faber. A vote of sympathy for one of its members, Henry Bould, who was injured in an accident, was passed by the members, and arrangements were made to send him a suitable gift. Final plans for the outing of the club to be held at Canfield Lake next Sunday were adopted and the committee, M. Green, E. Freudenthal, H. Bould and C. H. Hulme, expect this to be the banner occasion of the organization. Instructions were given the secretary to send a letter of congratulations to President Coolidge, telling him every success in the administration of the affairs of his office. A social hour was held after the meeting.

THE TAX RATE

Now that the tax rate is announced as $30.80, or 20 cents higher than that of last year, the general comment will be that considering the fact that all the appropriations for the year were included, in addition to $52,382 in unpaid bills of last year, it must assuredly be an honest tax rate. Most people expected that it would have been higher, and it probably would have been, but for the increase in valuation which is naturally more than the normal amount, but undoubtedly justified in view of the increased real estate values.

It has not been customary to have the supplementary budgets included in the tax rate for the current year; but Mayor Donovan insisted that these amounts should be reckoned in the rate before announcement. Hence it is, that these several sums—first $53,724 in the supplementary budget, then the $33,000 and $10,000 with some smaller items voted on Tuesday night, were all included.

Had the government been able to follow the same mode of borrowing for permanent improvements as in former years, the rate would have been lower than that of last year, as the various amounts added under the action taken at the last meeting netted $112,324 which added about 65 cents to the tax rate. This can be seen from the fact that an appropriation of $15,650 added 10 cents to the rate. So far as now appears the rate will give very general satisfaction except in cases where the valuation was advanced so as to bear some proper relation to the excessive revenue derived from the property. It is not calculated to scare away industries that might wish to locate here, nor to drive out any already here.

LIMIT AIRCRAFT ARMAMENTS

This country will promptly approve the proposition of the American Legion for an international conference to limit air armaments which are being increased at a rate that is a menace to the peoples of the world. It looks as if some of the powers restrained from increasing their naval armaments have entered into fierce competition in aerial craft. Thus France with her 140 squadrons of biplane fighters ready for combat due to a match on Great Britain, and now the British parliament appropriates $15,600,000 a year for three years to increase the aerial forces. The plan is to have fifty biplane squadrons of twelve planes each in addition to those in regular service.

Not to be outdone, France immediately arranged to have 220 squadrons. Assisted by these warlike preparations, Russia and Italy begin to provide for an air service also for "home defense."

For the year 1924-5 congress will be asked to double the appropriation of the preceding year for aircraft. Thus the race of death goes on, and the inevitable end will be war in the most terrible form yet devised, for, against the bombing airplanes there is practically no defense.

The Legion will render a service of inestimable value to humanity, if it can initiate a movement that will be aimed at a limitation of aerial armament for war purposes. With this should go the use of poison gases and submarine as too barbarous to be used by civilized nations.

THE COST OF LIVING

It looks as if the cost of living is going to begin dropping within the next six months. A very definite decline in wholesale prices has been taking place in the leading commodity markets. The down movement started in March. Since then, wholesale prices have dropped about a tenth, averaging them.

It is just a matter of months until consumers get the advantage of such wholesale price slumps, but consumers will be out of luck if wholesale prices suddenly recover—that is, rise above all, we should not favor a so-called bonus such as part of the vote of confidence poured into the president's ear by these business men.

Fortunately, Secretary Mellon got a chance to say that he did not favor any move toward cancellation of the war loans recently re-tendered. Every proposition made for leaving us in Europe, begin with the extinction of these loans to the then atom.

But, as usual, Mr. Coolidge proved a good listener and his conclusions are that they had made an important decision.

The soldiers want the bonus, and with an election coming next year an effort may be made to put it through the state session of Congress. As governor, Mr. Coolidge signed a bonus measure in this state, but it is problematical what he would do if a national measure were put up to him.

If he followed the policies of the president, of course, he would vote it without hesitation.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The Lawrence Automobile club is starting a safety campaign well to be conducted from Sept. 23 to 26. Every city needs such a campaign, but the unfortunate experience has been that in some cities campaigns of this kind have accomplished little or nothing. It will be remembered that such a campaign started very vigorously in this city a few years ago, was followed by a number of very serious automobile accidents. Possibly, this was a mere coincidence from which no general conclusion can be drawn.

We are aware of safety first campaigns, however, and hope that the event at Lowell will be a success. We need a safety campaign here in Lowell, which is much in most of the cities. We still find that the motor drivers, taxicab and omnibus operators, among the highways, are still and that some parents allow small children to run at large on the streets, even exposing the health interests of our old citizens in imminent danger of death. And the persons who failed to keep their children out of such danger, a campaign of education may accomplish some good.

THE EASY MARKS

The Fall River News in discussing the inexplicable ease with which this swindling agents can sell worthless securities to those who are always trying to get something for nothing, says the "easy mark" would not think buying bonds and securities that are paid less than 15 per cent. Neither with the weather. Is it a change in the weather, a campaign of education may accomplish some good.

There is something radically wrong with the weather. Is it a change in the weather, a campaign of education may accomplish some good.

Outabout 'Chappie'
W. P. Chapman, the city newsman for Boston Call, has had so much experience chasing stray dogs that he put his skill to a new test when he found a fox making away with his prize rooster. Chapman saddled his horse and after a run of half a mile he lassoed the fox and recovered the rooster.

Her "Daily Dozen"
A Brooklyn child awoke one morning to find her mother going through strange contortions with a telephone receiver strapped to her ears. The frightened child spread the alarm, and when the rescue party of neighbors arrived they discovered the mother was simply taking her "daily dozen" by radio.

The Same Effect
A boy was reading in his Scottish history an account of the Battle of Bannockburn. He read as follows: "And when the English saw the new army on the hill behind, their spirits became damped." The teacher asked the boy what was meant by "damping their spirits." The boy, not understanding the meaning, answered, "Putting water in their whiskey."—Philadelphia Daily News.

With a Quarter
"Ma," exclaimed Teddy, "Mrs. Johnson said she would give me a nickel if I told her what you said about her." "I never heard of such a thing," answered his mother indignantly. "You're a good boy, but—Ma, I would like to know, though I never mentioned her. Mrs. is an angle for being such a sensible lad!" "I should think I am, Ma. When she showed me the nickel I told her what you said was something awful and worth a quarter at least."

Bobbin's Wooden Leg
A horse belonging to Jacob Diamond, a New Englander, had a wooden leg which was far stiffer than none, but which however caused him more or less trouble. Some years ago the腿 was caught and would have burned him for the timely arrival of the fire department. Last summer an auto bumped into the steel and broke the wooden leg, but the horse still ran home, and was turned in the sum of $1,600, because he had been bruleed and hamstrung to that amount.

PRESIDENT BELIEVES IN SCOUT MOVEMENT

orary president of the Boy Scouts of America, addressing the chief scout executive while vice president, said: "We need to keep constantly in mind the old saying that the boy is the father of the men, and that those qualities which we prize most in American character are dependent upon the training of our youth. Your organization serves to bring out those valuable traits, and I believe that the Boy Scouts of America have a great future before them and constitute a real force working for good citizenship."

ON THE FOOTPATH TO PROSPERITY

A twelve-year-old boy in our neighborhood applied to me for work. Asked how much he thought his services were worth, he said he thought ten cents an hour would be about right. So I put him on, at cutting grass, raking, errands, sweeping sidewalks and the like. I paid him his amounts and pay him more than ten cents an hour but enjoy his willingness to work for a low price until he can do better.

If this boy sticks to his present determination for the next ten years, I still make him governor of the state or congressman. For I have told other men about him, and they are interested in him, too. You never saw a man who was not interested in a good boy.

HAS SPLENDID RECORD

No Black Marks Against Man 37 Years With Street Railway Company

Thirty-seven years on one job and still going strong is the record held by Charles Hutchinson, senior operating force employee of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company.

"Hutch" as he is called by his friends, began his street railway company's employ in July 1886, and has been rating ever since without a mark. His first job with the company was as driver of a horse car, and he held this job for three years, when the first electric cars made their appearance upon the city streets. He became an motorman on the electric and has always held this position not becoming an operator when the one-man cars made their appearance here because his rating gives him first choice in bidding off cars and he has always chosen a two-man car.

In his 37 years at the controller and brake handle of an electric car, "Hutch" has never had a very serious accident and he has never had a black mark placed against his name on the discipline card of the company.

From the advent of the electric car up to three years ago, when the one-man car entered the field, "Hutch" was motorman on the Lowell-Lawrence line and he knows every post, tree and house on that line.

Since the one-man car service started, "Hutch" has been motorman on the Lowell-Lawrence line, leaving the car barn at about 5 a.m. in the morning and completing his day's work at 12:30 in the afternoon.

Mr. Hutchinson's story of his life is exceptionally interesting. He was born in New Boston, May 22, 1855, and received his education there. At the age of 17 he worked his way down to New York on board one of the coastwise sailing vessels and signed up as an able seaman on one of the American trading vessels, the followers of the clipper ships and the last of Uncle Sam's merchant marine. His boat sailed from New York and Boston for ports in Europe, Asia Minor, Africa and South America, trading at every port of call and often being on a voyage for eight months to a year or more at a time. Navigation was the only thing he could study on board ship and within a few years he was third mate, and before leaving the sea became a second mate—quite an honor for a man less than 26 years of age.

After quitting his ship in New York, he came to Boston and got employment with the old Boston and Lynn railroad.

For two years he stayed at this job and then came to the Navy Yard district of Dracut and became a weaver in the old mill there.

Inside work did not agree with this raw-boned son of the Province and after three years as a weaver he entered the employ of the Dracut Street Railway company as a driver on horse cars.

The sailor-lad was right at home on the jolting, rolling, front platform of these cars and stayed with the company automatically becoming an employee of the Bay State company when they took over the Dracut road, and has stayed with them ever since.

Although many things have happened in the 48 years that "Hutch" has been on the road, the one outstanding event that has remained most vivid in his mind is the changeover from horse cars to electrically propelled trolley cars. His stories of the old horse-car days are all too familiar to many who have lived here for the past 30 years, but drive home to the younger element the fact that life was not drawn with roses in those days. His stories of driving a snowplow drawn by eight horses and being snowbound in the plow for a period of two days and nights suffice to make the listeners shiver even in these days when the majority of the snowplows run by the street railway company are equipped with stoves and when 20 hours' continuous service on a plow is considered quite a stint.

Mr. Hutchinson is, according to the street railway men, a walking weather bureau for his training at sea taught him to forecast the weather and his records are often much more accurate than the weather bureau's.

"Hutch" is married and lives at 51 Stedman street, Dracut. He has a son, Paul, a graduate of Dartmouth College, class of 1920, and now cashier of the American Express company at Peking, China.

Although "Hutch" is 68 years old there are many men his age, but and but half his age who would be afraid to tackle him" for he is in the prime of condition and seems good for many years to come.

Fashions Finger Points

To TUCKS

either very deep ones—round and round a straight and narrow skirt, or groups of tiny ones bordering a coat, or lattice-like, covering the surface of a Crepe de Chine frock.

To TIERs

Tiered frocks are the darlings of the Mode and come in a dozen versions—bias, straight and circular. They take all sorts of new directions and uneven lines—and they make their smartness doubly sure—with a bow in the back.

To FLOUNCES

which follow the Spanish silhouette, flaring at the knee. In frocks of black satin, in the wrap-frock of cloth and in many of the slender, tube-like coats—and eighteen-inch circular flounce at the bottom is the mark of Autumn, 1923.

To PLAITS

They distinguish panels on the side; aprons in the front; capes in the back; flounces and tiers, round and round; frills from shoulder to hem. Sleeves of Georgette are plaited and so are cuffs and collars and gilets. Everywhere—Plaits.

To LINGERIE TOUCHES

The lingerie touch on the dark frock is a delightful and universally becoming fashion. It may be embroidered net collar and cuffs, a lower sleeve of cream fillet and batiste or a gilet of tucked Georgette. Lace ruffles at neck and sleeve, or cream lace frills on the left side of the bodice have been emphasized by the best Parisian dressmakers.

To COLORED EMBROIDERY

usually of Oriental inspiration. Chinese designs in porcelain blue and rose with dragons in jade and gold are among the most arresting and unusual features. Beads, in many instances, furnish the color note—sparingly used but lavish in hue. All-over designs of heads, cut steel, gold, or crystal are as smart as ever. Rhinestone embroideries decorate some of the newest blouses.

To THE NEW SLEEVE

which is long—suddenly long—after the sleevelessness of the past season, and often tight to the wrist—there flaring in a frill or circular cuffs. Newer still (paradoxically) is the leg o' Mutton sleeve—often of lingerie or embroidery.

14-YEAR-OLD GIRL SWIMS MILE TO GET AID HELD FOR ASSAULT WITH COAST TO COAST AIR MAIL

MILE TO GET AID

NORTHPORT, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The story of a mile swim through the chilly waters of Long Island sound Tuesday night by 14-year-old Margaret Canfield, of Brooklyn, in order to obtain aid for her brother and three others who were adrift in a rowboat, was told yesterday after they had been picked up off Port Jefferson. The girl and her companions lost an oar when a mile from shore. They were clad in bathing suits and Miss Canfield plunged overboard to recover the oar. The boat drifted away before the stiff wind and when she saw she could not reach it with the oar she calmly set out for shore, guided by the twinkling lights of Northport.

Using a slow stroke, the girl fought the dangerous currents successfully and finally dragged herself ashore, exhausted. She was able to tell her story and in a short time many boats were searching the sound for the boat. It was found by fishermen who had joined the search. The frightened occupants had taken turns paddling with the single oar during the night and were weak from the effort.

INTENT TO KILL

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 23.—A 16-months search for the man who assaulted Mrs. Samuel Shorr, restaurant owner of the postal service settled into routine today, with the second night of October 2 last and got away with $5,000 uneventful. The second day's cargo of air mail passed each other that night at Omaha, control point of the night flying zone, at 10:20 p.m. central time.

The east-bound flight early today had with the arrest of William E. Moes, a long lead over Wednesday morning's flight, Bob Bishop, 35 years old, due directly to the delay caused by unpredictable fog at Laramie, Wyo. Thus with assault with intent to kill but day night, and an earlier start from court today, the police announced.

Although Mrs. Shorr identified Moes as the man who attacked her, he declares he can prove he was in the United States Naval hospital at Chillicothe, Mass., the entire month of October. Moes says he served in Company D, 23rd Infantry, in the World War and is now a patient at Omaha in charge of the experiment announced that they're evidently expected to reach their 28-hour coast to coast record by the end of the week. The east-bound flight was set out at 5:30 hours, ravaging wind helping to cut down the east-bound time.

So far the relays have been completed without accident. Tuesday night's fog at Laramie caused the only serious interruption.

No chipping bar soap—
No making soap jelly—
No more hard rubbing

You don't need to bother with bar soap any more This new kind of soap takes its place~does the whole job~

A WHOLE heavy wash. It is no small job to go over every single piece in it with a piece of bar soap.

The extra rubbing on the dirtiest places. Then the heavy, heavy rubbing of the wet clothes on the washboard.

That is the hardest part of washday. The part that takes a woman's time and strength. It is the one thing that every woman would give anything in the world to be spared from.

Today you don't have to go through all that back-breaking, hours-long drudgery. There's a new kind of soap that women all over the country are using because with it just soaking takes the place of all that hard rubbing.

This new soap, Rinso, is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soap makers in the world. It is as wonderful for the family wash as Lux is for fine fabrics, or silks, or woolens.

The pure Rinso suds are so rich in cleansing power, yet gentle and mild, that just soaking clothes in it loosens all the dirt, and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and shining as you never could get them before.

Only spots where someone has actually ground in the dirt—neck bands, cuff edges and the like—will need a light rubbing. For this light rubbing you sprinkle a little Rinso on the fabric, and the most obstinate spots disappear at once.

One woman says: "Rinso is a wonderful saver of time and strength. It is easier on my clothes than the old way of rubbing the dirt out, and a thousand times easier on me!"

You don't have to change any of your washday methods with Rinso. Just use it wherever you used to use bar soap—for soaking, for boiling or in washing machines.

You don't need any other soap, or any soap powder. Rinso does the whole job. Fifty-five million packages of it were used last year. That tells you how much women like it.

Rinso is in all grocery and department stores. In the regular size, and the big new package for women who want lots of it. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The governors of the New England states in a conference at the state house today discussed the coal situation and the question of consolidation of New England railroads. All expressed their intention of attending in person or sending representatives to the coal conference in New York next Tuesday, called by E. H. Wadleigh, federal fuel distributor.

It was announced that the governors felt that action regarding coal must be taken by the states individually and that no New England program was advisable. They expressed their confidence in President Coolidge who they said understood the needs of New England people.

LOWELL MEN PRESENT

Lively Hearing at State House on New Bill Board Regulations

(Special to The Lowell Sun)

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The New Bedford board of commerce and the Lowell chamber of commerce stirred up a little trouble at the hearing at the state house over the new bill board regulations asking for what seemed like special privilege for the chamber of commerce. A. R. Thackery of the New Bedford chamber of commerce stated that the body he represented believed that the department of highways should permit signs on state highways signed "by the chamber of commerce of New Bedford." Such signs, he said, have been prohibited as the department rules that the signature constitutes advertising. He stated that chambers of commerce are anxious to maintain information bureaus for tourists and that unless they can offer some such direction signs their information bureaux are worthless.

A communication was entered from the Lowell chamber of commerce stating it believed that route signs and direction signs should be permitted.

This brought instantaneous objection from Ralph Bauer, president of the Lynn chamber of commerce. Bauer said that he wanted to see no chamber of commerce signs on the highways nor any "historical or historical signs."

The chambers of commerce should not come to the state house, he declared, "and seek any such privilege."

The communication from the Lowell chamber of commerce stated that the general sentiment in the Lowell district was against the garish disfiguring bill boards and that the "Lowell railroad station was a disgraceful mess of signs."

For an entire day opponents of the bill boards fought for drastic bill board regulations insisting that there be a standard bill board in Massachusetts of four feet in height and eight feet in length. The bill board interests will be given a hearing at the state house September 5.

To Discuss Plan to Supply Fuel for, yesterday to send representatives to assist in formulating an emergency distributing system.

Parley of Governors

The invitation for a conference with representatives of the interstate commerce commission and the principal eastern railroads to consider tentative plans for the institution of central distributing agencies in each state, with supervisory headquarters in Washington, went to the executives of 11 states—the New England group and those along the Middle Atlantic seaboard. It was dispatched after conferences during the day between President Coolidge and heads of the government agencies concerned.

Instruction On Use of Substitutes

In addition to considering a tentative scheme of distribution already worked out by Mr. Wadleigh, the New York conference, the governors were informed, will endeavor to evolve practical plans for instructing the public in the use of substitute fuels for anthracite. This was seen to be in line with the view held by the administration from the first that the public itself by turning to substitute fuels would exert strong pressure on any strike situation thus developed.

While hope still survived in administration circles that the anthracite miners and operators would find a way to avert a stop of the mines on Sept. 1, there was no indication today of any intention to further government intervention in the situation at this time.

Cost of Coal Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The cost of labor in production of one ton of anthracite increased from $1.62 in 1913 to $3.97 in the first quarter of 1923, the United States coal commission announced today in a report giving the result of its exhaustive study into production costs in the hard coal industry. The report called attention, however, that while labor costs formed 51.6 per cent of the sales realization price in 1913, they had dropped to 30.1 per cent in 1923.

Based upon sweep reports from 110 producers, representing 28 per cent of the total output, the commission's final analysis showed that the cost of

C. M. A. C. OUTING

Mayor Donovan has accepted an invitation to attend the first annual outing of the C. M. A. C., which will be held next Sunday at the Genoa club grounds in Tynsboro. It is expected that the event will be attended by at least 500 members of the organization and their friends, the coterie recently purchased 34 building lots in Livington avenue and it is his plan to erect modern homes on the sites. He has also purchased three acres of land at Hampton beach on which he will build summer cottages.

Stanley T. Mulvey

Stanley T. Mulvey, Jr., completely demolished. A third machine, a Buick sedan, owned by John McLean, was rescued from the burning building by the younger Mulvey and a party of volunteers.

The fire was discovered about 12:45 o'clock this morning. When Mr. Mulvey and his family were aroused, the flames had gained considerable headway and it was evident that the property was doomed. The discovery of the blaze was made by a railroad brakeman, who immediately notified Officer John Burns and aroused the sleeping occupants of the houses. The officer sounded the alarm from box 223, and when the flames arrived on the scene, the spreading flames had enveloped the entire structure.

It is believed the fire started in that part of the barn used as storage room for the Mulvey machines. A third car, a Ford coupe, was destroyed beyond repair and two Ford automobiles the property of Charles D. Mulvey, Jr., completely demolished.
